Ricky Rollins

Metals Industry Safety Advocate

The Day We Will Remember

Join us to hear the inspirational and motivational story of Ricky Rollins. Ricky tells the story of the accident and how he came to realize the impact on his family the accident had. What changed Ricky's life was realizing the potential impact it would have had if he hadn't survived.

*Safety is about more than protecting yourself... It is about protecting your coworkers, your friends, and your family from a life without you. We're lucky enough to forget our day-to-day, but when somebody is seriously injured, that's the day we will remember for the rest of our lives. What happens to you affects the people in your circle, and what happens to them comes right back around and affects you. We're connected to each other, and one unlucky day is all it takes to alter the circles of others for generations to come. It's not about how one person is affected by tragedy. It's about how everyone is. Your family, your friends, your coworkers. Your circle.

Who Should Attend? This is NOT safety training for Safety professionals. Anyone who has a "circle" should attend this inspirational and motivational evening presentation!

Ricky graduated from Clemson University with a bachelor's degree in Administrative Management. He began his career in the steel industry at Nucor Steel in Darlington, SC as the Melt Shop Clerk and held various positions at Nucor and Refractory companies for the next 15 years. In 1995, he joined Steel Dynamics on the construction and start up of the Butler Flat Roll Mill as the Refractory Mold Shop Supervisor. In 1998, he became the Melting Department Manager and remained in this position until January 2017. He then started Ricky Rollins Safety Speeches.
