ABOUT OUR SPEAKERS

Michael Gregory, CFA

Deputy Chief Economist & Head of U.S. Economics | Managing Director

Michael Gregory is Deputy Chief Economist and Head of U.S. Economics for BMO Capital Markets. He manages the team responsible for forecasting and analyzing the North American economy and financial markets.

Michael began his career in economics with Royal Bank of Canada in Montreal in the mid-1980s, before moving to Toronto to work in RBC's foreign exchange and money market research group. He eventually moved further along the yield curve and across the border, joining the fixed income strategy group at Lehman Brothers in New York City in the mid-1990s. Returning to Canada at the end of 2001, Michael headed up the Financial Services Analysis team at Bank of Montreal, focusing on regulatory and industry restructuring issues, before shifting to BMO Capital Markets Economics in 2004. He moved to Chicago in late 2013, providing research support for the U.S. and Canadian fixed income business and working with the Global Fixed Income Strategy team, before returning to Toronto in 2016.

Michael is a graduate of Concordia University in Montreal and Western University in London, Ontario; did doctoral studies at Fordham University in New York City; and, holds a Chartered Financial Analyst designation.

Flavio Volpe

President, Canadian Automotive Parts Association

Flavio Volpe is a champion of Canada's globally relevant automotive sector and is dedicated to the growth of Canada's automotive innovation, the development of new markets and the leveraging of its international leadership. Representing the interests of suppliers at home and abroad, he proudly leads the Automotive Parts Manufacturers' Association (APMA) - Canada's national association representing OEM producers of parts, equipment, tools, supplies and services for the worldwide automotive industry. Working closely with officials in all three countries during the NAFTA renegotiations, he led the industry's effort to secure an unprecedented increase in regional value content for automotive suppliers in the new USMCA.

Flavio speaks regularly on behalf of industry interests, opportunities and challenges in Canada and abroad and is a sought-after voice by leading global publications including The Economist, New York Times, Wall Street Journal, BBC, Globe and Mail and Washington Post. Flavio was recognized as Industry Leader of the Year by Automotive News Canada in 2017 and again for 2018.

Previous to APMA he served as Managing Director, Canada of WIRSOL AG, the EU's largest privately-held solar photovoltaic energy developer, and as Chief of Staff to the Ontario Minister of Economic Development and Trade.

Flavio holds a Master's in Business Administration from the Schulich School of Business at York University and a Bachelor's degree in International Relations from the University of Toronto.
